

SEEK SUNSHINE LAND

ADDISON FAMILIES BACK TO GLENDALE FROM BLEAK CANADIAN CITY

T. H. Addison of 130 North Belmont is a happy man these days for he has again near him a brother and cousin whom he had not seen in years. T. H., John, his brother, and Richard George, a cousin, came to Glendale twelve years ago from Quebec Province, Canada, with their families, and bought homes close together at 130, 114 and 122 North Belmont, as the numbers run now. Three years later R. G. and family went back to Canada, settling in Three Rivers, not far from Quebec City. They have had three sons and two daughters. The girls, the oldest and youngest of the children, are living, but all three of the boys died in Canada. The flu epidemic of 1918 was far worse in the portion of Canada where they lived than Californians ever dreamed of. Whole families were wiped out and little children died by the thousands. Mrs. Addison lost three near relatives in one day. Every member of her family were sick at one time except the oldest girl and all the nursing devolved on her, as no help could be had for love or money. Funerals were dispensed with for a time. Mrs. Addison said, and the bodies of little children were buried in long trenches. Mr. and Mrs. Addison finally decided to return to the land of sunshine to spend the remainder of their days and they are very happy at being again in their own Glendale home. Mr. Addison was master mechanic for the Tidewater Shipbuilding Company in Three Rivers, making from $400 to $500 a month. He has no fears but that he can get well paying work in Glendale.

John Addison and wife left Glendale for Windsor Mills, Canada, 90 miles from Three Rivers, six years ago. Mr. Addison was traveling agent for Canadian Paper Company, being constantly on the go to contract for pulp wood and says he has enough bought ahead to keep the mills working for many years. He will rest for awhile now and take up whatever suits him best when idleness begins to pall. Miss Myrtle Knapp, a niece, makes her home with John and wife. T. H. Addison says he is the only one of the residents of the block he lives in who were there 12 years ago and there have been four changes in the past week.

HONORING MRS. EARL BRYANT

Mrs. R. D. Angelica was hostess at a pretty luncheon given the latter part of the week in honor of a former resident, Mrs. Earl Bryant, who is now visiting old friends in Glendale. Covers were laid for Mrs. Charles Sanders, Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw, Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, Mrs. E. Augustin, Mrs. Stanley Collum, and the hostess. A separate table was provided for daughters of the ladies named who were guests of Barbara Angelica, viz., Marie Hearnshaw, Ethel Sanders, Helen Bryant, and Dorothy Collum. The tables were centered with marygolds and were dainty in all their appointments. An informal social afternoon followed the luncheon.

PLACE OF THE CHURCH IN ORGANIZED SOCIETY IS SET FORTH BY DR. CRIST

At the First Methodist church Sunday evening Dr. C. M. Crist spoke on "Men and Church Membership." He said in part:

The Christian church is the organized goodness of our day. No claim is made that all good is in the church nor that all the church is good. There was a Judas in the first church of twelve members. It might just as frankly be admitted that no one is all good. Possibly there is a twelfth of any of us that would betray the better self.

As to the church, the fact is she has not yet touched the hem of the garment as to the privilege of holy living, or the reaching of a needy world for God. Every great problem that is stirring the world should tremendously concern the church. No preacher nor church member has a right to ignore anything that is for the good of men. There is a marked tendency to shift blame from one to another but God holds every man responsible.

Whatever may be the attitude of men toward the church let us note some things that are true.

The church is a divinely organized institution. It differs in this respect

NEW SCHOOL LAW

MUST BE RECKONED WITH IN PLANNING NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Glendale was represented at quite an important conference of principals and superintendents held in the office of the Los Angeles Superintendent of Schools one evening last week where the first steps were taken to arrive at an understanding of the new school law which will go into effect next July.

The law says that pupils who are not in school or who have not finished high school who are between sixteen and eighteen years of age shall be given at least four hours' schooling each week during time in day school sessions. This requirement carries a great deal with it. It means the organization of special classes and the arrangement of programs to accommodate such pupils. It will take in many young people who are earning their living in a variety of employments and the carrying out of the law will mean conferences with business men as to how these young people may be released from daily routine to meet these school requirements. Also, it will be a matter of interest to business men what shall be taught them.

The state authorities estimate that there will be a great shortage of teachers for this special kind of work, and at the meeting mentioned, various committees were appointed to report, committee by committee, at a subsequent meeting.

The first committee to report will be the committee appointed to prepare a simplified statement of the provisions of the law.

The second committee will present an estimate of the number of students who will be affected by these requirements and their figures will be compiled from the recent school census.

The third committee to report will be the one delegated to suggest courses of study for these pupils.

The fourth committee on which Principal Moyse of Glendale Union High was named to serve with City Superintendent Monlux of Los Angeles

CLUB HUSBANDS SERVE DINNER

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Marlenee attended a dinner and program of the Wednesday Morning Club of Los Angeles Friday evening. The dinner was unusual as well as a happy success, being prepared and served by the husbands of the ladies of the club.

Dorothy Armstrong Welcome, violinist, and her sister, Phoebe Armstrong Marlenee, pianist, delivered a very much appreciated short program, followed by a lecture given by the Hon. Frank G. Lynell, lawyer and true American and philosopher of Los Angeles. His subject was one much in the present public mind, "Americanization," and quoting Dr. Marlenee: "Never have I listened to a more eloquent, patriotic philosophical address, full of fire as well as wit and pathos. I would like to have that lecture delivered in every school in America as well as our civic clubs, for the uplift and quickening of the patriotism and loyalty of the future as well as the present citizen."

GUESTS AT BRALY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly practically kept open house at their beautiful home on North Brand boulevard Sunday entertaining about a dozen friends in the course of the day. Special guests at their one o'clock dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Lyman of Grinnell, Iowa, and their daughter Luvilla Lyman. Mr. Lyman is a prominent lawyer in Iowa, his father having served on the supreme bench of the state. During the war the government persuaded him to take charge of Red Cross work in the neighborhood of cantonments in Alabama and so strenuous was his service that he is now in California for rest and recuperation, having taken a house in Hottelwood for the winter. Other callers during the afternoon were Lieutenant Webb of San Pedro, his mother, Mrs. Klopston, who is a Virginia, and a direct descendant of Chief Justice Marshall, and Mrs. Webb. The lieutenant has been in the navy a great many years and came to invite the Bralys and their house guest Mrs. Wells to visit San Pedro and let him show them the Kaiser's favorite submarine which is now stationed there. They will make the trip tomorrow. Other guests were Dr. Ledyard and wife of Los Angeles, Mrs. Sue Braly of South Pasadena, Mrs. Herman Janss and daughter Louise of Ocean Park.

FIRST LEAGUE OF NATIONS MEETING

WILL BE CALLED BY PRESIDENT WILSON WHO WILL PROBABLY NAME NEXT FRIDAY FOR THE ASSEMBLY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The State Department said today that President Wilson will issue a call for the first meeting of the League of Nations immediately, setting the date for next Friday. In issuing the call the president will be acting as an individual officer and as a former member of the peace conference. He cannot issue the call in the capacity of Chief Executive of the United States because the United States is not a member of the league. The peace treaty provides that Wilson shall call the first meeting.

LIQUOR DEALERS LOSE OUT

DECISION OF U. S. SUPREME COURT REMOVES CHANCE OF DELAYING PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The last chance of delaying prohibition vanished today when the Supreme Court denied an application of the New Jersey Retail Dealers' Association to institute proceedings to test the validity of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The court refused to issue an injunction against the enforcement of the law in New Jersey and sustained the contentions of the government that it (the court) was without jurisdiction to hear such cases.

The court held that such a suit must be instituted in a lower court and be brought to the Supreme Court on appeal. The liquor dealers had hoped to get quicker action by instituting the suit directly in the Supreme Court.

NEW MEXICAN EARTHQUAKE

SIX VILLAGES ON SLOPE OF ORIZABA DISAPPEAR AND ONE HUNDRED PERSONS DIE

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 12.—The new earthquake in the vicinity of Casautlin, killed over one hundred persons, according to dispatches reaching Mexico City today. The governor of the State of Puebla telegraphed that his information was to the effect that six villages on the slopes of Orizaba had disappeared in the quake.

The minister of war has sent an ultimatum to the rebel bands in the devastated districts that unless they cease harrassing the relief parties and co-operate with the rescuers, he will send federal troops after them.

COAL OPERATORS' RESERVATIONS

SUBMIT LIST OF QUESTIONS TO PRESIDENT'S TRIBUNAL TO BE ANSWERED BEFORE THEY ACCEPT FINDINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Coal operators today submitted to the president's tribunal which is settling the coal strike, a list of reservations which they ask the tribunal to pass upon before they accept the tribunal's future awards. The miners, through their representatives, agreed to accept the awards without reservations.

The operators' reservations were submitted in the form of questions as to whether the awards will be final and binding upon both parties; whether the commission has power to enforce its awards; and whether it has power to reduce wages or could provide for the introduction of new devices for reducing the cost of coal production. The tribunal promised to answer later.

RUSSIAN PROPAGANDA INVESTIGATIONS

SCOPE TO BE BROADENED AND "TRAILS LEAD TO QUEER PLACES" WHICH MAY INVOLVE FINANCIERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Senate today broadened the scope of Russian propaganda investigations by announcing that a large number of additional subpoenas will be issued immediately. Some members of the committee said that the investigation has struck "trails that lead to queer places." One said that some financiers may be involved.

TWENTY DEMOCRATIC RESERVATIONISTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Answering the demand of Senator Lodge for a democratic show-down on the peace treaty, the mild-reservationist group today sent Lodge word that over twenty democrats are ready to support any reservations which are reasonable and which do not "scuttle" the treaty.

GOODYEAR REUNION

MR. AND MRS. W. D. ROOT GUESTS AT FAMILY GATHERING OVER WEEK-END

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Root at the week-end enjoyed a trip to Ventura county, participating in a Goodyear family reunion. On Saturday Mr. William E. Goodyear in his seven-passenger machine took Mr. and Mrs. Henry Root, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Root, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Root and son, Floyd, to Somis, where Mr. Goodyear has a 200-acre lima bean ranch and a beautiful home designed by Alfred Priest, the Glendale architect.

There all were joined by other members of the Goodyear family, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ferguson, Master Lawrence Goodyear and the aged grandfather, Mr. J. D. Goodyear. It was especially interesting and enjoyable to have present the last named, who is spry in mind and body for one of his years. He is in his 95th year, having been born in 1825. He well remembers his elders shouting in the presidential campaigns of Andrew Jackson and later presidents and related reminiscences of those times. His family moved from Tiffin, Ohio, where he was born to the Indian Reserve in Ohio.

One of the incidents of the reunion was a posing for photographs. A group of four generations was arranged, consisting of Mr. J. D. Goodyear, his daughter, Mrs. Henry Root, (mother of W. D. Root), his grandson, Mr. Herbert Root, and his great grandson, Master Floyd Root.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Root were compelled to return to Glendale Sunday night, but other members of the party remained longer in Ventura county to visit the old General Arnez house and place on Ventura River, which Mr. J. D. Goodyear bought as a home nearly forty years ago.

WILLIAM W. ESTERLY

Friends of William W. Esterly, the ex-service man, who was taken to the hospital Thursday to undergo an operation for the removal of shrapnel in his lungs, report that he was able to sit up in bed Sunday but that the operation was not performed. Quite a group of surgeons was present, as the case was of general professional interest, one of them having come down from San Francisco on purpose to witness the operation. It was found that one piece of shrapnel was lodged too close to the spine to be operated upon with safety, and another was so thoroughly embedded in the lung that its removal might cause a fatal hemorrhage. The doctors therefore cleansed the wound and left the case for nature to perform her healing work, telling the young man he must be patient and would probably be confined to the hospital for six or eight months. Mr. and Mrs. John Esterly desire to return to Glendale and are looking for property here.

MR. AND MRS. B. L. CLINE ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Cline entertained at Sunday dinner Mrs. Cline's mother, Mrs. Sarah True, and sister, Miss Myrth True. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Crandall and son, Gale, of Los Angeles, Mrs. Olive Wright of San Francisco, and Mrs. Cline's son, Eldred Marlatt and wife of Glendale. Mrs. True is an invalid and it was quite an event for her to be able to drive from Los Angeles.

WELCOMES A SISTER

Mrs. C. W. Houston of 440 Myrtle Street is very happy over the arrival of her sister, Mrs. June M. Felleck, who has bought property adjoining her home. The two ladies have been separated for fifteen years, and are greatly enjoying the reunion. Also, Mrs. Houston has been very busy entertaining friends from Los Angeles and elsewhere in her sisters' honor. She comes from Wisconsin, and was one of the prominent women of the state.

NEW DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stewart of 711 North Maryland Avenue are the proud and happy parents of a fine little girl born Sunday night. She has been named Bettie Jane for a grandmother and great grandmother. She is the fortunate possessor of two grandmothers and two great-grandmothers. Mother and child are doing well. Her grandmother, Mrs. Stoker, conducts the C. & S. Cafeteria on Brand Boulevard.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Tuesday. Light to heavy frost tonight.

THE OTHER STATES

GEORGE E. MURPHY MAKES INTERESTING COMPARISONS WITH CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Murphy who have been absent for a goodly number of weeks on a business and pleasure tour of the United States, which took them as far east as New York and Washington, D. C., have returned better than ever satisfied with their home state. They say that the architecture of Southern California, the cultivation of home grounds and taste in beautifying them, have put this country way ahead of any other part of the United States that they saw, and their trip included stops in the northern portion of California, in Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania. Everywhere they went they found the greatest interest in California and some very exaggerated impressions regarding it. Many had the idea that it was a land of perpetual, never-ending sunshine, also that we have no really hot weather here.

Mr. Murphy's interests run to mechanics and farming and he has brought back some very interesting impressions. His first long stop was at Arcata, in northern California, where is living a brother of Mrs. Murphy, whom she had not seen for forty years. They had long arrears of visiting to make up. Mr. Murphy pronounces that district the finest dairy country he has ever seen and tells wonderful stories of profitable production. A second brother of Mrs. Murphy whom she has not seen in twenty years, was visited in New York, and at the same time Mr. Murphy renewed acquaintance with his brother who lives in Brooklyn. They found everywhere they went the same congestion of population and demand for housing facilities that exist in California. Rents have been doubled everywhere the same as here.

One of the things that impressed Mr. Murphy profoundly was the sub-

THE BEATIFIC VISION

DR. EDMONDS PREACHES FIRST OF A SERIES OF SERMONS ON ISAIAH

So largely attended were the Sunday services, both morning and evening at the Glendale Presbyterian church that the Sunday school room had to be thrown into the auditorium to accommodate the worshippers.

The pastor occupied the pulpit both morning and evening. His morning theme was "The Beatific Vision" based on the text, "I saw the Lord," Isaiah 6:1. It was the first of a series of sermons he is giving on Isaiah.

Reviewing the virtues and demerits of the king, the preacher declared he had one virtue. He "did right in the sight of the Lord" save only in one thing: the altars of the idolaters in the high places where sacrifices were offered unto the heathen gods, were not removed. The king was also described as "a compromiser," which the speaker characterized as "a despicable thing in a man." He was also referred to as one "who carries water on both shoulders," and because of his presumption and conceit the Lord smote him with leprosy and he died. Reviewing the scene, the preacher pointed out that the young prophet Isaiah saw all these things and that it was in the year of the King's death that he saw the Lord. It was a heart-searching and revolutionary experience in the life of the young prophet.

In giving the message Dr. Edmonds said: Let us remember that we are approaching the communion table and should come with hands and hearts clean. We should be ready to say: "In the year that self died I saw the Lord."

PROPOSED EXPENDITURE OF MONEY FOR SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

The attention of our readers is called to an announcement which appears on page 2 of this issue calling a mass meeting to be held in the auditorium of the Glendale Union high school for the purpose of considering the question of recommending the Board of Trustees to call a bond election for the purpose of voting money to buy additional land for school purposes and to construct additional buildings, one of the buildings to be an auditorium with a seating capacity of probably 2500 persons.

At a previous mass meeting the citizens present seemed quite unanimously agreed upon the need of more land for school purposes and also for additional buildings. There was a difference of opinion, however, as to the location of the land to be secured. There were those who favored a portion of the purchase to have a frontage on Brand Boulevard. There were those who opposed this project on the grounds that it was not best to bring the school activities any closer to a public thoroughfare than they are at present, especially when the cost of the land on Brand Boulevard would be much higher than elsewhere.

It is to be hoped that this meeting called for Friday evening will be largely attended by those who have at heart the interest of the Glendale High School. The question of bonding the school district almost to the limit of its bonding capacity is an important one for consideration, and one that should not be treated carelessly by the taxpayers of the district.

POLITICAL CHAOS EVERYWHERE

Never in the history of the United States has there been such clear evidence of political parties being in doubt as to the best methods to pursue during the coming national presidential campaign.

It is entirely out of the question for the democrats to consider President Wilson being a candidate for the third term. In the first place, a third term candidate is without precedent, secondly Mr. Wilson has gone through such tremendous war differences that it is not at all strange that he has become unpopular with many of the people of all parties. That any one should be a candidate that represents the policies that have been advocated by Mr. Wilson would also mean defeat for the democratic party. The name of William Jennings Bryan has been mentioned and while much may be said in his favor as being a man of great national power yet he is not the man that the people want for a leader at this time. In fact he was never cut out for a leader but has given excellent service in the way of offering valuable criticisms. Bryan has his place in national affairs but the people have never considered that his place was in the executive chair.

The Republican party is equally at sea as to whom their leaders shall be. The names of many good men have been presented. Gen. Leonard Wood would make excellent presidential timber as would also Col. Frank O. Lowden, present governor of Illinois. But the chances of either one of these men being nominated by the Republican party will be overcome by the ambitions of Senator Hiram Johnson of this state who has the qualifications to fill the executive office but who on account of previous party affiliations cannot get the united support of the Republican party. Senator Johnson is a man of superior ability and undoubtedly will bring forth every possible effort to gain the nomination and in making this effort he will likely defeat the other proposed candidates as well as himself.

Will Hayes, chairman of the National Republican Committee, is calling the Republicans of California together this week to get political fences repaired, the meeting to be held in Los Angeles Saturday evening, January 17.

TRAFFIC THROUGH GLENDALE

One of the important aids in bringing Glendale before the eyes of the public is the proposed improvement of boulevards in the western part of the city. As it is at the present time there is no well-improved boulevard in the city of Glendale connecting with the San Fernando Road. There are at present several propositions being considered, any one of which if carried out as planned will bring much through traffic over the streets of Glendale.

THE UNBURDENED SOUL

He was a very busy man, and proprietor of a very popular and crowded little book store. Insistent patrons were making numerous demands. With the utmost cheerfulness he was passing out books and change like hot cakes. Then the telephone bell rang.

The busy man answered. Apparently it was an impatient customer whose books had not yet arrived. "Yes, madam," the man was heard to say, "You will have them tomorrow. They are promised you for Christmas, not for the Saturday before. And you shall have them in plenty of time.—Very well, madam, you do not need to take the books if you feel disappointed. I never have arguments with my customers.—I'm perfectly willing to keep them right here even if they were a special order.—Oh, no, madam, there will be no loss to me. I shall sell them.—Oh, no. You are not burdening me. No one can burden me but myself, and I never do so."

The tense expressions on several faces in the tiny shop relaxed. Smiles went the rounds. "That's a lovely thought for the New Year," one woman remarked to her companion. "It's true, too," was the reply. Most worries and troubles are self-inflicted.

There is a forced cheerfulness and a would-be untroubled calm that merely cover a perturbed inside. They sometimes break down under a final strain. But there is another cheerfulness which comes from within and spreads outward, pouring a kind of spiritual oil on the troubled sea of life, which nothing can destroy. The possessor may be a philosopher or a psychologist or a sincerely religious person, probably a little of all three. He is very rare, but it is in the power of all the rest to grow a little more like him if they will, and so come nearer to that desirable place where "no one can burden them."—Long Beach Telegram.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Petitions of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation and the Schaw-Batcher Company for injunctions prohibiting strikers from interfering with operations at their plants were to be heard today by Federal Judge William C. Van Fleet.

The Anaheim folks are still wondering whether the Auto Club meant it as a joke or not when they erected signs near the center of the city, "Slow—Business District."

Earl Dickey, driving his auto near Duarte, skidded in the sand, smashed his steering gear, turned his auto upside down, wrecked his engine, tore the top off, broke his windshield, smashed both back wheels, and three Earl bottomsides down in a cactus bed. Otherwise no harm was done.

A slight earthquake tremor was felt at Upland the other day, says the News. We didn't notice it reported in any other papers up that way, so presume it was a strictly local wiggle. There's no need to conceal the little quakes, boys, as the tourists enjoy them. And when they're big ones you can't conceal 'em. So there you are.

Avalon, over at Catalina Island, has a swimmer who walks on the water. Of course he does it with some sort of a Wrigley motion.

They still have old style burglars over at Pasadena. One wasted his time the other night ransacking a banker's home, instead of tackling the home of some day laborer.

Advertise it or advertise for it in the News.

Personals

Clarence Taube, a college chum of Edwood Ingledue, was a guest in his home on East Wilson Avenue Sunday evening.

Mrs. L. C. Brand, who is visiting in New York City, reports that living in the East is considerably higher than on this coast.

Mrs. N. C. Kelley of Corona, formerly of Glendale, will be the guest of Mrs. Charles H. Toll at her home for several days this week.

Joe McFeeters has built and is occupying a garage on his lot at 1403 South Central, getting ready to build a nice little home on the front.

Miss Dorothy Williams of 208 South Orange Street, left for Berkeley Saturday night to resume her work in the State University where she is a junior.

C. A. Lessard, of 707 Orange Grove Avenue is having a four-room house built for him on Dayton Court, just in rear of the one now being completed at 231 North Cedar.

J. M. Dewar is living in a well-constructed garage on the rear end of his lot at 368 Pioneer Drive while he oversees the construction of a six-room bungalow on the front, to cost $2590.

Mrs. James Ewins of 615 South Verdugo Road has had the pleasure of entertaining for the week end her brother, Edward Brady, who motored up from San Diego to spend a few days with her.

Dr. P. S. Kellogg has sold his home at 328 East Dryden to Mrs. Shelley, a new comer from Indiana. Dr. Kellogg has bought from Mr. Miner the bungalow and two lots at 614 North Louise Street.

The Junior Department of the Sunday school of the First Methodist Church is tonight entertaining with quite a function the women of the church, members of the Ladies' Aid being guests of honor.

The thank offering of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church of Glendale was collected at the Sunday morning service and members rejoiced to receive about double the amount they had asked for.

Mrs. L. E. Ungles and three children, who recently moved into the house at 304 East Harvard, expect to return to their home in Des Moines, Ia., this week, but expect to return to Glendale next fall in company with Mr. Ungles and become permanent residents.

Florence Place, extending only one block, between West Acacia Avenue and West Park Avenue, is building up very rapidly, showing six new bungalows, including those of W. L. Craig, five rooms, at 1023, and W. H. Young, five rooms, at 1022. Each represents an outlay of about $3000.

Ina and Walter Abernathy of Los Angeles have come to stay for several months with W. B. Wilson and his sister, Mrs. Kate Aholtz, at 910 Orange Grove Avenue. Their mother is a teacher and can not care for them during the day. The little girl, 11 years old, is recovering from an attack of infantile paralysis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morgan of 1125 South Central Avenue are rejoicing over the recovery of their little son Eric who has come through a very serious illness. He has gained in weight in the past week and gives every appearance of thriving. He will probably not return to school until the beginning of the next term.

Mrs. Fred Furbeck, the little woman who is at the head of the Furbeck studio, was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium about five days ago. Her nurse reports that she is doing nicely but that she will probably be there for several weeks. In her absence her husband's sister, Mrs. La Tour of Hollywood, is looking after the Furbeck home and studio.

J. D. Hale, a painting contractor who has been working in Glendale for three years past and going back and forth between this city and his home in Huntington Park, at last got tired of it all and bought the Ayers house at 134 North Belmont. The family moved in Friday—Mr. Hale, his wife, his step-daughter, Miss Ouida Stoney, and his mother, Mrs. D. Hale.

Mrs. Edward Lynch and little daughter left Sunday evening to spend the remainder of the winter in Berkeley with Mrs. Lynch's parents. Mrs. Lynch is not strong and found the care of her big house too great a task, so her father and mother persuaded her to join them where she will see her husband about as often here since his professional duties keep him traveling constantly all over the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Esterly Sunday afternoon motored to Los Angeles, which they reached in time to visit the scene of the great fire—the burning of Shrine Auditorium, the big steeple falling just after they arrived. It was a spectacular event and a highly exciting one for people of the neighborhood, many of whom were removing their household goods in expectation that their dwellings would be consumed. Nothing burned, however, besides the auditorium save a few garages.

Ed Smith and family of 1022 North Louise Street have returned from a week's holiday in Los Angeles.

The Ladies' Aid of the Glendale Lutheran Church is meeting today for an all-day session at the home of Mrs. A. J. Esterly on Salem Street, where comforters are to be made.

from the lodge, the club, or the fraternal organization. Because the church is so near the heart of God, everyone should prayerfully and sympathetically consider her. The critic should change his attitude to that of concern and helpfulness.

The church was originated by God for man. It is not that the church needs you; it does, but you need the church. If a man takes Christ as his Teacher, his Savior from sin and his inspiration to goodness, he should also assume the obligations of church membership. He should do this, not because he has already attained unto the perfect life, but because he has not.

There are those who refuse to unite with the church because they are more liberal in their views. The church they say, is narrow and bigoted. We must remember what Christ said, "If any man will be my disciple let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me." But religion is not only restrictive. A false emphasis has blinded our eyes to the broad and glorious liberty of the sons of God.

Some men declare that they can live the christian life separate from the church. If that be true, this also is true: Without the church's teachings and example they would never have been christians. How much below one's dignity and manhood it is to deny an open service to that organization to which they are most indebted. Suppose you would say of the one who gave you birth, yes, she is my mother, but I never give her public recognition!

All of christendom languishes, not because bad men oppose her, but because good men withhold their support.

As the final reason for church membership it might be said that the very essence of christianity is to know and love and obey Jesus Christ. His honor is everything. But His honor is bound up in the church. So every man should unite with the church for Jesus' sake.

In his closing remarks Dr. Crist appealed to the men of his congregation to make a public enlistment for Jesus Christ. "Good wishes," he said, "are not sufficient. The church needs you."

Long Beach believes in putting them where they sound like they belong. E. S. Acres is in the real estate business there and is secretary of the realty board; Mr. Hamm has a meat market and Miss Smart has just been elected a teacher in the high school.

Folks are getting younger every year in his country. The janitor of the court house at San Luis Obispo is nearly 75, and a youth of 84 took a ride in an aeroplane at Long Beach the other day and liked it fine.

Mark down another golden wedding, this time from Glendale, to offset the flabby news from the divorce courts of Los Angeles. Stick it out, folks. As we said before, the first fifty years are the hardest.

A bunch of boys out roving in the hills near Highland spied a mountain lion and cornered it and stoned it to death. It has always been claimed that it was impossible to kill a lion that way, but unfortunately for the lion the boys didn't know that.

They say there's a silver lining to every cloud. Aside from the gate receipts, the only silver lining we can figure from the Oregon-Harvard football game on New Year's Day is that if Harvard hadn't won, it would have been a tough job to ever induce another eastern team to come west to get licked. Three times running would have looked more like a habit than a coincidence.

At Ontario Miss Eleanor Corn was bridesmaid at a recent wedding. She probably wore silk tassels, and stalked in leaning on the arm of her foder. But as for having a husky voice or an ear for music, shucks no.

A regular human race was pulled off at Santa Barbara the first of the year. The merchants had offered a choice collection of prizes for the first boy and girl babies born in the new year and some lively scrambling resulted.

A colored preacher at Riverside ran into an auto driven by a couple of young ladies, and they sued him for damages, winning a judgment for $164. At the rate most preachers are paid, he will be able to save enough to pay off the judgment in about 164 years.

Encouraged by the abundant supply of hose in sight, as spoken of by Editor Westland of the Upland News, Corona has organized a second fire department.

Salvation is free in more ways than one at Hemet. The Methodist preacher there has installed a free bus to haul out-lying members to church. They'll have to do more than out-lying if they find an excuse for not going to church.

POINCARÉ FINDS A HOUSE

(By United Press).

PARIS. (By Mail).—President Poincaré has just demonstrated to the satisfaction of every Frenchman that he is the greatest man that modern France has produced.

This is not due to the mere fact that at middle age he has attained every honor which the French nation has to offer such as being deputy, minister, prime minister, one of the "forty immortals" of the French Academy, and president of the Republic, but to something far greater and far more important. It is due to the sublime, almost incredible fact that M. Poincaré has found a house.

In the present crisis of flats and apartments in Paris, any one who can succeed in landing one is looked upon by the remainder of the houseless Parisians as a being endowed with the genius of the gods.

In succeeding in finding a house, M. Poincaré has incidentally put France out of an awful lot of misery because it looked very much for a time as though upon President Poincaré's departure from the Elysee Palace next month he might either have to take a hall bedroom in some hotel, provided he could get one, or else camp out in the Champs Elysees.

Preceding the war Poincaré possessed three homes in France, in addition to his right to occupy the Elysee Palace during his seven years' term as president.

Unfortunately all three of these houses were within the war zone.

The orange was originally a pear-shaped fruit about the size of the common wild cherry. Its evolution is believed by naturalists to be due to 1200 years of cultivation.

ways of New York. No one can realize what they mean until he has seen them, he declares.

Everywhere he found the farmers very prosperous but in one respect, he said, farmers of California are head and shoulders ahead of their fellows in other states—in their organized methods of handling their products.

Mr. Murphy was born and raised in Pennsylvania and feels for that reason a special interest in that state. He expressed the disappointment it was to him to see the farms falling into the hands of the foreign population and their original owners flocking to the cities, but he found the explanation in the extraordinary call for labor. In New York City the demand is simply stupendous, he declares, and because of shortage in this line labor has become very independent and insolent and comes to work when it feels like doing so, regardless of obligations to employers who are helpless to effect a change because of abnormal conditions.

He crossed Texas, which he had never visited before, and went as far south as Falfurios, where the people are trying to rival California in the production of citrus fruit and claim to have as good a climate as this state. Some of the groves he visited there have excellent fruit this year, but he says it is not as well cared for either in cultivation or irrigation as are the Southern California orchards. Growers have this disadvantage to contend with: When cold weather overtakes them it comes with a wind which makes ineffective the smudge pots to which California orchardists have resorted. While they have been able to save their fruit for several years, they are liable to a disastrous freeze any time. But in reviewing some of the advantages of Texas he said:

"I think the time will come when they will make lots of money in Texas along certain lines, such as walnuts, vegetables and peanuts. Peanuts are a sure crop and sweet potatoes are almost a weed, they grow so spontaneously.

He found some queer conditions in the course of his travels, for instance lots of places in the best farming districts of Central Kansas could not get enough milk to supply the demands of the population because the farmers were making more money out of something else than dairy cows.

He and Mrs. Murphy experienced no discomfort on account of lack of coal because all their friends had bought supplies to last the winter through during the summer when prices were the lowest and therefore were not affected by the strike.

les and Mr. Barber of Alhambra, is to report on the relative cost of this new line of instruction for the several districts and how to meet that cost because the matter will have to be presented to the member of the Board of Supervisors in a definite form for their consideration and acceptance in making allowance for school expenses for next year.

Another provision of the law provides for night schools for all of the people up to the age of twenty-one years who can not readily use the English language. That is also a part of the new regime to go into effect after the first of July.

An idea of the far reaching effect of the law can be glimpsed from the fact that it has been estimated that Los Angeles will have to provide instruction for 70,000 additional people. The attendance will no doubt be largest in the districts in which the working people live.

While Glendale will not be as much affected as some portions of the county, in preparing a budget for next year and in buildings and school equipment High School trustees will have to take these matters into account and make the necessary provisions to comply with the law just as they were forced last year to construct a gymnasium building because of the law requiring an increase in the athletic work of students. They will have to be reckoned with in the plans for the new buildings for which Glendale is considering the voting of a bond issue.

The meeting was attended by representatives from all parts of the county, beach towns, foothill towns, and men of the city, all anxious to get some definite interpretation of the law. It developed in the discussion that Long Beach has already started a city survey and is trying to ascertain two things. The number of people involved, the co-operation of business men with respect to the hours for attending school and the probable cost.

The committee reports as brought in will be summarized and put in form to be furnished to the schools of the county for their information so that all will not have to go over the same ground.

POCATELLO, Idaho, Jan. 12.—(United Press).—The Idaho State Federation of Labor met here today with eighty-two delegates in attendance. They included representatives of the miners, printers, electrical workers, teamsters, carpenters and many other classes.

Labor leaders were silent as to issues that will be brought forward. This is the fifth annual convention.

ON THE COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Delivering his annual report today as president of the Seamen's Union of America, Andrew Furuseth declared he had conclusive proof that the seamen's act had equalized wages as between American and foreign sailors. The act was generally approved by delegates to the national convention of the union, which Furuseth addressed.

Furuseth's report declared that native Americans are going to sea. He dealt extensively with recent court cases affecting the union, touched on his activities during the peace conference, and scathingly arraigned what he termed "propaganda against the seamen's act."

SEATTLE.—The University of Washington's new nautical school opened today aboard the gunboat Vicksburg, which is moored in Lake Union at the U. of W. wharf.

Governor Hart in a brief speech opened the school. It has proved a popular innovation, and applications have been pouring in upon Grover C. Gaier, the secretary.

The students are all youths between the ages of 17 and 21 years.

SALEM, Ore.—The Oregon legislature convened here at 10:30 o'clock this morning for a special session, pursuant to Governor Olcott's call.

The executive, in his proclamation summoning the lawmakers, enumerated five purposes of the extra session:

First—To amend the workmen's compensation act by increasing the rates paid to injured workmen, "thus alleviating suffering and hardship endured by such workmen."

Second—To appropriate money necessary to properly execute the soldiers', sailors' and marines' educational financial aid act, which was adopted at a special election in June, 1919, and to further appropriate money to meet such liabilities as have been authorized by the state emergency board during the year 1919.

Third—To consider legislation necessary to supplement and carry out the "state bond payment of irrigation and drainage bond interest constitutional amendment," which the people adopted at the June, 1919, special election.

Fourth—To consider the advisability of submitting to the Oregon electorate the question of the restoration of capital punishment.

Fifth—Ratification of the federal suffrage amendment.

The legislators were not asked to confine their work to the five questions mentioned in the call, and the session may last two or three weeks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Fight enthusiasts, accustomed to watching the regulation four-round matches, will have an opportunity to witness a ten-round match and three six-round preliminaries here tonight.

The Presidio Service Club is staging the fights in the Oregon building which is on a government reservation where state laws do not prevail. Police Captain O'Brien has promised no attempt will be made to interfere with the show.

The main event of the card is a ten-round affair between Battling Ortega and Jimmy Darcy of Portland.

Proceeds of the show will go toward refurbishing the Oregon building as a club house for the soldiers.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 12.—(United Press).—Prices as low as are consistent with sound business were promised by James W. Funk, new fair price commissioner for Utah, who opened his office here today.

"Prices are now very high and the causes are apparent to some," he said. "We shall ask the merchants and manufacturers to act in the spirit of patriotism. We shall have a working arrangement with the U. S. district attorney, but shall not seek to bring business to that office. Rather, we shall try to avoid such action."

THE PRUNE CLUB

"Here's one for you this morning," said the young man with the red necktie, breezing into the boarding house breakfast table. "What's the difference between a man and a cow?"

"Because you've got to get on the right side of 'em to get anything out of 'em," suggested the man brought up on the farm.

"Back up there, Cyrus! I said what's the difference?"

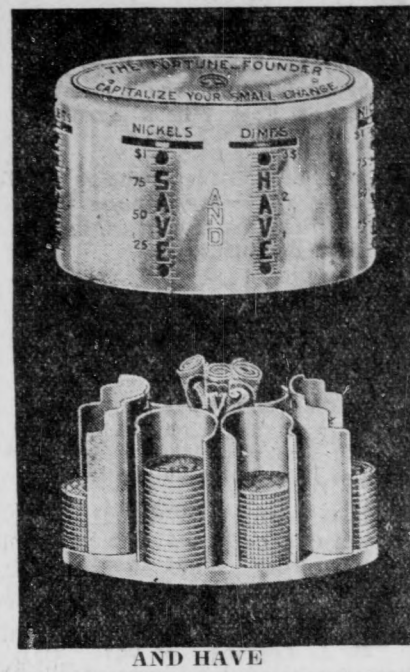

"Well, my guess is 'cause a man is never satisfied with his lot," said the real estate broker.

"Not right."

"Perhaps it is 'cause a man never has more than two calves," said the clerk on the hose counter at the gentleman's emporium.

"All wrong. Now listen: Because a cow never seems to bite off more than she can chew."—Yonkers Statesman.

TALK IT OVER WITH THE CHILD

A parent who has not tried to solve problems of conduct by discussion with his children has not governed them in the best way. Again, a parent who has not learned to restrain his own views on questions affecting the members of the family while he listens to the views of his children has missed the greatest pleasure to be derived from being a parent. Anyone who is not an autocrat will find only delight in observing how his children's minds work on the difficulties which are encountered in the management of the home. He will be exhilarated when he sees how their views enlarge every day as they develop, and how they gradually get their selfish desires under control so that they can appreciate and observe principles of right and justice and fair play themselves and insist upon others observing them. A parent who is a bully never can get an insight into his children's thoughts about conduct and so he can never know what fine sport it is to be a parent.—M. V. O'Shea in Mother's Magazine.
